A New System for Illinois

A new three-level teacher licensure system will go into effect on February 15, 2000. Under this new system, Initial Certificates valid for four years of teaching will be issued to beginning teachers. Experienced teachers applying for renewal of Early Childhood, Elementary, High School, or Special Education Certificates will receive Standard Certificates valid for five years and renewable with proof of continuing professional development.

The third level of certification, the Master Certificate, will be available only to teachers who have earned National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) Certification. The Master Certificate will be valid for ten years.

Five Core Propositions

The following five core propositions are the heart of the National Board's work. The standards of accomplished practice for each certificate are derived from them and are measured by performance-based assessment tasks.

- Teachers are committed to students and their learning.
- Teachers know the subjects they teach and how to teach those subjects to their students.
- Teachers are responsible for managing and monitoring student learning.
- Teachers think systematically about their practice and learn from experience.
- Teachers are members of learning communities.

National Board Certification Areas

The following twelve certificates are currently available:

- Early Childhood/Generalist
- Middle Childhood/Generalist

WHAT IS NATIONAL BOARD CERTIFICATION?

National Board Certification is a voluntary system that measures the practice of experienced teachers against high and rigorous standards. An NBPTS certificate is a credential attesting that you have been assessed by your peers as a teacher who is accomplished, makes sound professional judgments about student learning and acts effectively on those judgments.

Illinois teachers who earn National Board Certification will qualify for the new Master Certificate and enter a ten-year professional development cycle for license renewal.

Why participate?

The National Board Certification process is

- a catalyst for your own professional growth.
- a method for recognizing accomplished teachers and the impact they have on student learning.
- an approved way to meet the new Illinois continuing professional development requirements.
- a process for developing reflective practitioners through an analysis of professional practices and student learning.
- an opportunity to meet and work with outstanding teachers from all parts of Illinois.
- the only way to attain the highest level of the new certification system.

Who can apply for National Board Certification?

Eligibility requires that teachers

- hold a bachelor's degree,
- have taught for a minimum of three years, and
- possess a valid state teaching license or have taught for a minimum of three years in schools recognized or approved to operate by the state.

What will I have to do?

Candidates participate over the course of the school year in a two-part assessment that includes

- A portfolio that includes student work, videotapes, and reflections on the effectiveness of their classroom practice; and
- Assessment center exercises designed to complement the portfolio and organized around challenging teaching issues.

Additional information is available at the NBPTS website: www.nbpts.org or you may call the National Board at 1-800-22TEACH.
